When do you need this cover?

- Do you have financial responsibility for a spouse or partner, and/or for children?
- Do you have ongoing financial obligations to maintain, even during a period of loss of income?
- Would you also like to exploit the tax benefits offered by pillar 3 provisions?

Continuity: Even without any reserves of your own, replacement income cover will give you financial security in the event of incapacity to work.

Tax benefits: The government supports your private provisions – within the framework of pillar 3 legislation, a portion of your premiums is tax-deductible.

3

Choice: You also decide on the duration of your policy coverage (e.g. up to your retirement) based on your personal circumstances.

4

Combinability: In many cases, disability cover tops off the benefits offered by a unit-linked or mixed life insurance policy.

5

Tax benefits: Up to a specified maximum amount, the premiums you pay can be deducted from your taxable income within the framework of pillar 3a/3b rules.
